BEGINNER PRODUCT · 60-SECOND DEMO

Nail Kit

60-Second Salon Shine

Sixty seconds, one nail, and a face that lights up — the fastest WOW you will ever get out of a stranger's hand. Know where it sits before you fall in love with it: the nail kit, the scrub and the body butter are completely beginner products. They are for people who are learning how to sell, or who just want to put some nice energy on the floor. The syringe is the star product — that is what we focus on, and selling one is what a shift is measured on. So a sheet that treated a nail-kit sale as the goal would be teaching you to stay a beginner. Run this one for the practice: once you can get that reaction on demand, on a stranger, with a crowd watching, you can get it on the syringe too. One real promise comes with the kit, and it is the only one in the shop — the buffer. She brings the old one back, she gets a new one, forever.

The Hook — Stop Scripts

1. The Natural Nail Compliment
   "Wow! You always keep your nails natural? That's awesome. Let me give you a small gift — you're gonna love this." Say it confidently, smile, and lead inside immediately. No hesitation, no questions.

2. Setting the Scene
   "So this isn't your typical nail buffer — it's a professional system that keeps your nails shiny and healthy for up to two weeks without any polish." Unbox it slowly while you talk — create curiosity and ownership.

The 3-Step Demo

BUILD IT, DO NOT RUSH IT

The magic is in the buildup. Steps 1 and 2 create suspense. Step 3 is the WOW.

1. Smooth · Grey Side

   Hold her hand gently. Start with the first two steps on one nail. “Most buffers you see remove the top layer of your nail to make it shiny — that’s actually bad. It makes the nails weak and thin. This one’s different. It smooths, shapes, but doesn’t remove anything.” Show the nail — not shiny yet. “See? Nothing dramatic yet — now wait for the last step.”

2. Polish · White Side — Prep

   Use the white strip, buff gently. “Feel that? It’s soft, not rough. It’s actually pushing your natural oils up to the surface — that’s what gives the shine and strengthens the nail.”

3. Shine (The Close) · THE WOW MOMENT

   Pause. Lower your voice. Build suspense. “Promise not to scream?” “WOWOWOWOW! 😁 Look at that — that’s your natural nail! No polish, no chemicals — and it stays shiny like this for two whole weeks.” If she’s with a partner or friend, make them part of the reaction — laughter = comfort = buying mode.

The Warranty Pitch

1. Present the Full Kit

   “Everything you saw comes in this full kit — buffer, professional file, cuticle oil, and cream. And the best part — the buffer has a lifetime warranty. No matter what happens — if it breaks, if it wears out, even if your dog eats it — you can exchange it in any of our stores worldwide.”

2. Close the Logic

   Let them laugh — humor lowers the guard. Then close the logic: “It’s one simple kit, one design — there are no colors or versions to choose from. This is the one everyone loves.”

THE BUFFER WARRANTY IS REAL — SAY IT WITH CONFIDENCE

The lifetime warranty is one of your strongest closes. It removes all risk and creates unbelievable perceived value. And it is the one lasting promise anybody in this shop is allowed to make: she brings the old buffer back, she gets a new one, forever, in any of our stores. The owner honours it, so say it like you mean it — the dog line is there to make her laugh, not to soften a lie. Everything else stops at the till. No refunds, no returns, no money back, no promise of future service.

Emotional Connection

WHILE SHE IS STILL LOOKING AT HER HAND

You know, this isn't just about beauty — it's about that little daily detail that makes you feel fresh and confident. Every time you look at your hands, you'll feel clean, polished, and taken care of.

And if you think about it — €60 for something that replaces salon visits for years — it's a no-brainer.

TONE

Keep the tone friendly, not pushy — this pitch should feel like a fun chat, not a sale.

Price & Offers

€80 Europe — what these cost back home ANCHOR

Always anchor with Europe first. Nobody pays this — it is the strike-through you say out loud before the real number.

€60 Andorra — one kit NORMAL

The asking price, and what the buffer alone is worth with the warranty on it. Say it once, then go straight to the offer.

€120 Buy 2, Get 1 Free OFFER

3 × €40 Classic trio — most popular offer · 3 full Nail Kits · Perfect for gifts · €40 per kit effective

Right now we've got an amazing offer: if you buy two, you get one free. So you pay €120 and walk away with three full kits. That's why everyone grabs these during the holidays — they make the perfect Christmas gifts. Small, elegant, and actually useful.

€120 Buy 2, Get 2 Free OPTION B — BESIDE, NOT BELOW

4 × €30 Premium Christmas — four for the price of two · 4 full Nail Kits · One for you, three for gifts · €30 per kit effective

You know what, Christmas is coming — let's do something special. Instead of Buy 2, Get 1, I'll do Buy 2, Get 2. You'll get four full kits for €120 — one for you, one for mom, one for sister, one for a friend. Easiest Christmas shopping ever.

€60 Buy 1, Get 1 Free OFFER

2 × €30 Flexible combo — cross-sell setup · Nail Kit + Scrub · Nail Kit + Body Butter · Perfect intro pair

Tell you what — I'll do something better for you. Instead of just one kit, I'll do Buy 1, Get 1 Free for €60, and you can mix and match it with our Scrub or Body Butter. So you can take one Nail Kit and one Scrub — or one Kit and one Butter — still €60 total.

€30 Final Push — Single MINIMUM

Final push — whole kit at half the normal price · Full kit (not just buffer) · Lifetime warranty included · Opens door for return

Alright, you know what — I can see how much you loved it. The kit is normally €60, and the buffer alone justifies that with the lifetime warranty. But since it's the holidays and I really want you to enjoy it, I'll do the whole kit — buffer, file, oil and cream — for just €30. It's my way of opening the door — try it, use it, love it. Next time you're in Andorra, you'll come back for the second one, I promise.

THE RULE — SHE DOES NOT LEAVE THE SHOP

If she walks out she is never coming back, so treat every exit as a lost sale. Read the ladder as bundles, not a slide: €120 buys three kits and the same €120 buys four, so the money only really moves at €60 and then at €30. The whole kit at €30 is the bottom rung, not a goodbye — warranty included, in her hands today, and she is a customer. Work all of it before anything ends. Never hand her a card, never write the price down, never send her off to have a think with somebody who is not standing here.

Pro Tips

Let them feel the shine before showing price

The WOW moment in Step 3 is your close. Never mention price before they see the mirror. The visual proof sells itself.

"Even if your dog eats it" — use the warranty

The lifetime warranty is your risk-remover. The 'dog eats it' line makes them laugh and remember. Use it every time.

Mention Christmas gifts naturally

"Small, elegant, and actually useful." During peak season, every demo should include a gift reference.

Buy 2, Get 2 for amazing buyers

When the energy is high and they have a Christmas list — this is your volume close. Four kits at €120 is €30 per kit.

Buy 1, Get 1 Mix & Match for quick closes

€60 for a Nail Kit + Scrub/Butter is an easy yes. It also sets up your cross-sell perfectly.

€30 single kit — the holiday gift line

Your graceful exit that still creates a customer. Frame it as a gift from you: 'It's my way of opening the door.'

Build suspense before the WOW

"Promise not to scream?" — this line creates anticipation. The contrast between the buildup and the reveal is what makes them buy.

Fast, fun, and feel-good

This is a 60-second demo. Keep energy high, move quickly, and celebrate their reaction. If they smile, they buy.

Lines We Do Not Cross

- The buffer is the one promise you may make, and it is real: she brings the old buffer back, she gets a new one, forever, in any of our stores. Nothing else gets promised — no refunds, no returns, no money back, no service after the till.
- Nobody leaves to think about it. The whole kit at €30 is the last rung and it happens here, today — no card, no price written down, no voucher to take away.
- A nail kit is never what follows a syringe. Sell a syringe and your job is the handover: the upseller is a specialist who is only here for a short time. You do not pitch a second product on top of it.
- Nails, oils, shine, dry hands — talk all of it up as much as you like. Never reach for a disease to sell a kit.

- Never explain why it is cheaper here. The Europe price beside the Andorra price does the whole job on its own — the shop’s standing in Andorra is not a selling point we voice, in any wording.
- Every number on this sheet is generated from the app. If a rung moves, reprint the sheet; never invent a rung of your own.
