WEEKLY TREATMENT

The Peeling

Not a Cream — A Treatment

The peeling is the middle of the ladder. It is not a cream and it does not replace anything she already has at home — it is a once-a-week treatment that takes the dead skin off and makes everything she already owns work ten times harder. It sells on a hand demo and a dermatologist's name, and it is the easiest thing in the shop to talk about. Just do not stop here: the syringe is the star, and this hand demo is the shortest route to the chair.

The Hook — Stop Scripts

THE FAVORITE TRICK

"Let me show you my favorite quick trick for glowing skin. You'll love this."

KEEP IT LIGHT, NO HEAVY PRESSURE. THEN LEAD INSIDE CONFIDENTLY — DON'T WAIT FOR A "YES."

THE PERSONAL HOOK

"What I'm about to show you right now is one of my absolute favorite products — I actually use it myself!"

SMILE, ENGAGE, BUILD TRUST INSTANTLY. THEN SET THE STAGE:

"Now, this isn't an anti-aging cream, and it's not here to replace anything you already use at home. It's something completely different."

THE SEPARATION PITCH

"This is something completely different. This separates dead skin from living skin. It's a once-a-week treatment that you use at home on clean skin. What it does is separate all the dry and dead layers from the living ones, giving your skin a fresh, clean, and glowing look. It helps your creams work 10× better because they penetrate deeper and act faster."

The Demo — Hand Application

1. Apply to the Hand
   "This is a once-a-week treatment that you use at home on clean skin. Let me show you on your hand." Apply a small amount to the back of their hand.

2. The "Roll It, Don't Rub It" Technique
   Tell them: "Roll it gently with your fingers — don't rub hard." The dead skin will start to pill and roll off. This is the visual WOW moment. Let them see the grey/brown particles forming.

3. Explain What They're Seeing
   "See that? That's dead skin. Dry, dead layers separating from the living skin underneath." Point at their hand as you say it, not at yourself — let them keep looking at their own skin.

4 The Authority Builder

"This is the one doctors and dermatologists actually send people to. The driest skin you have ever seen, skin that cracks, redness that never calms down, people prone to eczema and psoriasis — this is what they use, because it takes the dead off without touching the living. If it is gentle enough for them, imagine what it does for you." Say it looking at her hand, not at her.

5 Show the Fresh Skin

Wipe away the rolled-off skin. Have them feel the area. "Be honest — when was the last time your hand felt this smooth? That's not from the product — that's YOUR skin, finally breathing."

6 The Longevity Close

"The best part? This bottle will last you a full year of treatments. So it's not something you'll run out of next month — it's an actual investment for your skin."

The Two Offers

THE TWO ANCHORS COME FIRST

Say the two anchors first, every time: €200 around Europe, €150 here in Andorra. Both offers below are read against those numbers — without them, €100 is just a price. Then present TWO choices, let them decide, and pause — silence is your friend.

OPTION 1 — 50% OFF + DEAD SEA BODY SCRUB GIFT

"Take it for 50% off the Europe price — that's only €100, and you'll also get the Dead Sea Body Scrub as a gift. Same mineral treatment, but for your body."

OPTION 2 — FULL PRICE + DAY & NIGHT CREAM FREE

"This is the favorite for most customers: if you pay the normal Andorra price of €150, you'll get the Peeling plus the Day & Night Cream completely free!"

The Price Ladder

ONE STEP AT A TIME

Walk down one step at a time. This is the way DOWN, and it is for the customer who genuinely cannot reach the two offers — nobody else. Option B is not on it: it sits beside Offer 1, and it is more money, not less.

€200 Europe Price ANCHOR

Anchor — mention this first to build value

"Normally, around Europe, this product goes for €200, because it's proven and works."

€150 Andorra Price NORMAL

Our standard price

"But here in Andorra, it's only €150!"

€100 50% Off + Scrub Gift OFFER

Best value — half the Europe price plus a gift Best-value single. Most customers who hesitate on €150 take this.

"Right now, we've got an amazing promotion: take it for 50% off the Europe price — that's only €100 — and you'll also get the Dead Sea Body Scrub as a gift. Same mineral treatment, but for your body."

€150 Option B — Day & Night Cream Free OPTION B — BESIDE, NOT BELOW

Not a rung. This is Option B, and it goes out BESIDE Offer 1 above it — never under it and never descended to. She pays MORE and walks out with the Day and Night Cream on top. Both go out together and she picks.

"This is the favorite for most customers: if you pay the normal Andorra price of €150, you'll get the Peeling plus the Day & Night Cream completely free!"

€70 Adaptive — Store Credit NORMAL

Remove the scrub, use as credit

"You know what, I totally understand. Let's make it easy — I can take the Scrub out of the deal and put its value straight back to you as credit. That way I can make the Peeling €70 for you."

€50 Voucher Close VOUCHER — ONCE ONLY

Drop your voice, make it feel exclusive. Only on the single Peeling, not the combo.

"Alright, alright... listen, I just checked, and I can do something a little crazy for you. But you can't be greedy, okay? I can't do it on the big option — only on the single Peeling. Remember how I told you I could do it for €70 without any gifts? If you use this voucher, I can actually bring it down to €50, just this one time. But from next time, it goes back to the normal price, alright?"

€50 Minimum MINIMUM

Last resort only. Try everything else first. The voucher lands here and this is the end of the ladder: voucher or no voucher there is nothing underneath it, and on the peeling you do not go and fetch a manager for it.

"Look, I really want you to try this, so €50 it is — and that is my floor. Voucher or no voucher, there is nothing underneath it. Just promise me you'll actually use it, okay? Not once a year — once a week."

The Emotional Close

THE HEART SELL — SAY WITH EMOTION

"We always think twice before doing something for ourselves, but come on — when was the last time you actually treated yourself? You work hard, you deserve it. And this isn't an everyday product — it's a year of results."

SAY THIS WITH REAL EMOTION — THIS LINE CLOSES DEALS. THEN FOLLOW WITH:

"You're going to love this. So, which one sounds better for you — Option 1 or Option 2?"

PAUSE. SMILE. WAIT. DON'T FILL THE SILENCE.

Pro Tips

Demo on the hand — always

The visual of dead skin rolling off is your strongest proof. Never skip the hand demo.

"Roll it, don't rub it"

This phrase is crucial. If they rub too hard, it won't work. Gentle rolling creates the pilling effect.

Mention dermatologists

Say it out loud: doctors and dermatologists send people to this. The driest, the most sensitive, people prone to eczema and psoriasis. Nothing you can say about glow lands as hard as the fact that it is what the worst skin in the room uses.

A scrub is not this

A scrub scratches the dead skin off. This dissolves the glue holding it on and the skin lets go by itself. That is why it is once a week and not every day, and why the bottle lasts a year — you are not sanding your face, you are telling it to let go.

“Does it hurt?”

“Hurt? You will feel it working — a bit of warmth, a bit of a tingle, about ten seconds in. That is it doing its job, not hurting you.” Never say “no” flat. She can feel something; denying it makes you a liar ten seconds later.

Tell her how to use it

Clean skin, Sunday night, five minutes. Roll it, rinse it, then your own cream goes on and it works ten times harder because there is nothing dead in the way. Once a week — more is not better, it is just faster through the bottle.

One bottle = one year

Always emphasize longevity. €100 for a full year of treatments is less than €2 per week. Frame it as an investment.

€200 first, always

Start with the Europe price. The Andorra price feels like a gift after that anchor.

The emotional close is everything

“When was the last time you treated yourself?” Say it with genuine feeling. This line works on every demographic.

Works on everyone

Women, men, young, old — this pitch works on every demographic because it delivers instant visual proof and emotional value.

€50 voucher is your secret weapon

Only use the €50 close at the very end. If you drop it too early, you leave money on the table.

ONE VOUCHER, ONCE

You use the voucher once, and on the peeling it lands straight on the floor: €50, single Peeling only, never the combo. There is no second voucher — inventing another one tells her the first was invented too. And unlike the syringe, you do not go and fetch anybody for this number: on the peeling the maths simply stops there.

BRIDGE IT UP TO THE EYES

Do not stop at the hand. “Feel that patch? That is your skin with the dead taken off it. Sit down one second — the same trick on the eye is the one that makes people scream.” The peeling is the middle of the ladder, not the top of it.
